

Making and Embedding Transformation Post-COVID

Quality assuring the multidisciplinary MSK workforce

12.30-13.45 Wednesday 4 May 2022

Speaker Bios

Dr Graeme Wilkes, Chief Medical Officer, Connect Health

Dr Wilkes joined Connect Health in 2007 from General Practice and Sports Medicine, initially working as a GP with Special Interest and Clinical Lead. He gained entry to the Specialist Register for Sport & Exercise Medicine in 2011 and is now Connect's Chief Medical Officer, having previously held the position of Medical Director, working clinically as a Consultant in Sport & Exercise Medicine (SEM).

Dr Wilkes has championed use of evidence-based medicine with Connect to achieve best clinical outcomes for patients.

This has included developing Connect's innovative "10/10 guidelines" and contributing to services leading the field in clinical outcome data production. Dr Wilkes has also developed an in-depth and expert understanding of how community NHS service can function well and meet the needs of patients, the taxpayer and staff.

Dr Wilkes serves as a Council Member for the Faculty of Sport & Exercise Medicine, Senior Sport Physician to the English Institute of Sport and Chief Medical Officer to British Diving.

@wilkesy49

Dr Graeme Wilkes | LinkedIn

Dr Giles Hazan, MBBS, BSc, MRCGP, DipMSM, PGCE Med Ed, GPwER MSK Medicine, Sussex Partnership Foundation Trust, BASEM Education Committee Member, RCGP Representative (MSK) and Versus Arthritis Core Skills Trainer

Giles is a GP in Mid Sussex who also works as a GP with an Extended Role in the Chronic Pain Service for Sussex Partnership Foundation Trust.

He has a keen interest in musculoskeletal education and interprofessional training, delivering courses with Red Whale, Versus Arthritis and the MACP as well as sitting on the education committee for BASEM.

Giles is a council member and clinical lead for diplomate members of the Faculty of Sports and Exercise medicine (FSEM) and is involved in the development of the training pathways for GPs working in extended roles.

@GilesHazan

Dr Giles Hazan | LinkedIn

Uzo Ehiogu, Associate Director of Clinical Excellence, MSKR

Uzo is a Consultant in Musculoskeletal Physiotherapy and Physical Preparation and is an Associate Director of Clinical Excellence for MSKR. He advises clinicians and organizations on musculoskeletal rehabilitation and performance optimisation and is an international clinical educator.

A former Royal Marines Commando, Special Operations Soldier and British Army Physiotherapy and Rehabilitation Officer. He has developed leadership and management experience in diverse and challenging environments, both in the Armed Forces and corporate healthcare. Uzo has a Masters of Science Degree in Neuromusculoskeletal Physiotherapy and Bachelor Degrees in Applied Sports Science and Physiotherapy. He is a full member of the UK Musculoskeletal Association of Chartered Physiotherapists (MACP).

Uzo is in his final year of a Masters of Science in Strength and Conditioning. Uzo is also a United Kingdom Strength Conditioning Association accredited strength and conditioning coach (ASCC).

He is a Visiting Fellow at Leeds Beckett University Centre for Human Performance, Honorary Clinical Lecturer at Birmingham University Medical School and visiting Lecturer on Physiotherapy Master of Science programmes at Coventry University, Brighton University and Oxford Brookes University.

@consultantPT

Oliver Coburn, Registrar, BASRaT British Association of Sport Rehabilitators and Trainers

Ollie Coburn is the Registrar for the British Association of Sport Rehabilitators (BASRaT), overseeing the organisation's function in registering and regulating Sport Rehabilitators. He is the secretary for the Accredited Registers Collaborative, the group of PSA Accredited Registers representing over 85,000 healthcare professionals in the UK.

He also sits on a committee for the World Federation of Athletic Training and Therapy working to promote the profession of Sport Rehabilitation / Athletic Training internationally. Previously, he has held various roles as a musculoskeletal clinician in the private sector, sport and private medical insurance industries. Ollie is a passionate advocate for his profession and the role that Sport Rehabilitators can play in enhancing population health.

@OllieCoburnGSR

Matthew Rogers, Head of Professional Development, The Institute of Osteopathy

Matthew is a practicing osteopath with over 20 years' experience in the private, public and charitable sectors. He currently works as a senior executive for the Institute of Osteopathy (the professional body for UK osteopaths).

In this role, Matthew represents the profession at regional and national level and holds responsibility for the delivery of a number of quality improvement initiatives (including several funded and endorsed by Health Education England) designed to support implementation of national strategy.

Matthew formally held a Fellowship with the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE).

@Development1120
@InstOsteopathy

Matthew John Rogers | LinkedIn